

Information for Contributors

The Scribes Journal of Legal Writing is a publication of Scribes—The American Society of Legal Writers. The Journal publishes articles, essays, notes, and other pieces on all facets of legal writing. Our readers include lawyers, judges, academicians, writing instructors, and a wide range of others interested in improving legal writing.

Submissions. Please e-mail manuscripts to Mark Cooney at cooneym@cooley.edu. Word documents are preferred. We have no minimum or maximum page count.

Style. For grammar and usage, follow Garner's Dictionary of Legal Usage (3d ed. 2011) and Garner's Modern American Usage (3d ed. 2009). For citations, follow the ALWD Guide to Legal Citation (5th ed. 2014) or The Bluebook: A Uniform System of Citation (20th ed. 2015). For spelling, follow Merriam-Webster's Collegiate Dictionary (11th ed. 2003). We discourage footnotes that contain substantive discussion; footnotes used to cite pertinent materials are fully acceptable.

Editorial Policy. We evaluate manuscripts for their interest, significance, originality, and style. We edit selected manuscripts for clarity, concision, and accuracy.

Contributors' Responsibilities. By submitting a manuscript, each contributor warrants that he or she has obtained all necessary copyright permissions for quoted materials. Contributors are responsible for the accuracy of all quotations and citations.

Copyright. Unless otherwise noted, the copyright of each piece published in the Journal belongs to Scribes. But contributors are free to use their own material if they duly acknowledge The Scribes Journal of Legal Writing.
